Benjamin Moore

This is a place to hang a hat and settle in for a while. The inviting skies and aged copper/patina trim the room in a timeless scene. The slate floor adds a feeling of natural stone that brings you back to nature. The beautiful hand blown glass chandelier made in Murano, Italy adds a touch of old world class that works with the original wooden/antique doors. Natural stone floor, real copper patina finish and open sky make this room as natural as bringing the outdoors in. The most prominent feature is the built-in bench—solid and functional, it's the focus of this mural.
